AS Accuracy muſt be conſidered the grand Object with Books which are publiſhed as a Guide to Travellers, the Proprietors of this Work think it incumbent upon them to ſtate their Authorities for the preſent Publication. It might perhaps be ſufficient to ſay, that it is brought forward under the Sanction of His Majeſty's Poſtmaſter General; but they cannot avail themſelves of ſuch an Indulgence without ſtating the Circumſtance which has procured them ſo liberal a Patronage.

Having had it in Command from the Poſtmaſter General to make a Survey, under the Direction of Mr. Haſker, Surveyor and Superintendant of the Mail Coaches, of the whole of the Mail Coach Routes, and other principal Roads throughout the Kingdom, for official Purpoſes, amounting in Admeaſurement to upwards of Nine Thouſand Miles, the Accuracy of which (as required by an Act of Queen Anne, for all Roads meaſured on Account of the GENERAL POST OFFICE) being atteſted on the Oaths of the ſeveral Surveyors employed, it was deemed to be a Work of ſuch Utility to the Public, that it ought not to be withheld; and it is humbly preſumed, that, from the Preciſion with which it is executed, much Benefit may accrue to the Traveller; as the Diſtances on thoſe Roads given from actual Admeaſurement, are planned from one ſtationary Object to another, it will enable him to determine beyond Diſpute the exact Length of his Stages.

Extenſive as this Survey is, yet it was not conſidered to embrace the whole of thoſe Roads to which the Traveller might wiſh occaſionally to refer; it has therefore occupied much of the Attention of the Proprietors, and they have, with great Induſtry and Care, ſelected from the County Surveys ſuch other Roads as appeared to them eſſential, the Diſtances of which, although not regulated by their own Survey, and, of courſe, not calculated from one ſtationary Mark to another, yet they have every Reaſon to believe are faithful, as the manuſcript Copy, previous to printing, was regularly ſent to the Poſtmaſters of all the principal Towns in the Kingdom for Inſpection, and to report Errors where any might occur: by which Means the Proprietors have been enabled to authenticate the numerous Seats and Reſidences which they have inſerted in this Work. Through the ſame Channel they have alſo received a Liſt of ſuch Inns as ſupply Poſt Horſes and Carriages, which are added at the End of each Route: this, it is preſumed, will greatly contribute to the Convenience of the Traveller, and on many Occaſions prove highly advantageous.

To this Work we have prefixed a general Map, on which are exhibited the whole of the Roads deſcribed; and although on a ſmall Scale (as being beſt adapted for folding), it is hoped it will fully anſwer the Purpoſe deſired; the Mail Coach Roads being diſtinguiſhed from the others, and the Direct Roads from London being marked differently from thoſe which we have given under the Head of Croſs Roads.

It being judged preferable to give the Meaſurement from one Standard only, we have choſen the GENERAL POST OFFICE for that Purpoſe. From this Spot we have directed the whole of our Meaſurement on the Direct Roads, not only becauſe we have made ſo very extenſive a Survey from that Point, but becauſe it is the moſt centrical in the Metropolis.

And having it in our Power to be more minute in our Diſtances than is uſual in Books of this Sort, we have given the fractional Parts in Furlongs, thereby determining the Reckoning ſo near as an Eighth inſtead of a Quarter of a Mile, which has been the Rule hitherto adopted. But relying on the Preciſion with which the Work has been executed, we deemed it proper to be thus particular, as we can take upon us to vouch, on the Oaths of the Surveyors employed (whoſe Names we ſubjoin), that all thoſe Routes which we have headed G. P. O. (which is intended as a diſtinctive Mark for thoſe Direct Roads which we have meaſured) may be depended on in that exact Degree in which we have deſcribed them; and although we do not ſo firmly vouch for thoſe which we have not actually ſurveyed, we again add our Reliance that they are correct.

Thoſe Roads which we give under the Head of Croſs Roads we have diſtinguiſhed, where meaſured, by reckoning the Diſtances from fixed Objects, in the Manner adopted for the Direct Roads, but thoſe which were not meaſured we have not been able to deſcribe with that Preciſion. But we preſume, from that ſtrict Attention which has been given to the Accuracy of this Work, as well as that liberal Allowance which is generally ſhown to Publications of this Nature, that the Errors which may occur will be thought favourably of, as from adventitious Circumſtances ſome muſt occaſionally happen.

Surveyors employed in meaſuring the Roads deſcribed in this Work.

RICHARD WOLLAMS, Shirleywich.
JOHN BURTON, Lancaſter.
JOSEPH SINGER, Littletown, Devon.
L. HERBERT, Strand.

The Meaſurements, which are taken in Miles and Furlongs, are arranged in Columns, the firſt and ſecond giving the Diſtance from one City, Town, or Village, to the next; the third and fourth, the Number of Miles from the Commencement of the Road.

Example.—Page 1.

	M	F	M	F
G. P. O. to Shooter's Hill			8	5
From Shooter's Hill to Welling	2	1	10	6
——— Crayford	2	5	13	3
——— Dartford—Bull Inn	1	7	15	2

Thus you obſerve the Diſtance is given for Shooter's Hill in the third and fourth Columns, eight Miles five Furlongs; and in the Continuation of the Road to Dartford you find the Meaſurement to that Place from London to be fifteen Miles and one Quarter.

General Directions for tracing the Roads.

Suppoſe you want the Road from London to York—look for the Name of that Place in the Index to the Direct Roads from London, and the Figure oppoſite to it refers to the Page in which is that Part of the Road containing York, though the Deſcription of the Road in which it is ſituated (being that from London to Edinburgh and Aberdeen) begins in Page 258, and ends in Page 268.

In describing the less Roads branching out from the greater, the last remarkable Place on the great Road, or the Spot where the lesser turns off, is first given, with a Reference to the Place in which you will find the Road so far as to that Place; and afterwards the Branch is continued: as, for Instance, to find the Road from London to Weymouth, the Index refers you for Weymouth to Page 63, where you find it in the following Form, viz.

	M	F	M	F
To Dorchester, p. 36	—	–	123	–
Brodeway	4	7	127	7
Melcomb Regis	2	5	130	4
Weymouth	—	4	131	–

By which it appears you are referred to Page 36 for this Road as far as Dorchester (the last remarkable Place on the great Road); thence the Remainder of the Road to Weymouth is given after the above Form in Page 63, as directed by the Index. These References are made use of in order to prevent the numberless Repetitions, which would otherwise unavoidably occur, and thereby swell the Book to an inconvenient Size.

The Index to the Cross Roads, it is conceived, is made sufficiently copious, and will be found so decisive in its Purpose as to need no farther Explanation than what is given at the Beginning of it.

NOTICE of any Errors which may occur in this Work, if remitted to J. CARY, No. 181, Strand, London, will be thankfully received, and carefully attended to in the next Edition.

INDEX

TO THE

DIRECT ROADS FROM LONDON.

The Firſt Column contains the Name of the Place; the Second, the County in which it lies; the Third, its Market Days; and the Fourth, the Page in which the Place is to be found.

INDEX to the CROSS ROADS.

Note.—Where the Italic Character is uſed, it implies a complete, uninterrupted Route; and where it is given in the Roman Letter, it ſignifies it to be Part only of ſome Route ſo deſcribed in Italics—For Example, ſee the Route from Hounſlow to Ryegate, p. 591. This Road is divided thus—Kingſton to Ewell; Kingſton to Hounſlow; Ewell to Ryegate.—Obſerve that, in this Inſtance, as in moſt others where the Road is ſubdivided, the Eye, in reading, is directed contrary Ways, or both up and down; namely, upward for Kingſton to Hounſlow, and downward for Kingſton to Ewell, and ſo for Ewell to Ryegate—conceiving that it was likely the Road might be as much required from Kingſton to Hounſlow, as from Kingſton to Ewell.
